Dog Friendly Attractions

Drumlanrig Castle

Drumlanrig Castle is near Thornhill (18 miles from Barnsoul). There are several walks at Drumlanrig for all ages and abilities and your dog can join in the walk too. All that is asked is that they are kept on the lead due to there being lots of wildlife.

Caerlaverock Castle

Caerlaverock Castle is near Dumfries (17 miles from Barnsoul). Caerlaverock Castle welcomes dogs to explore the castle and grounds, however they must be kept on the lead. The castle supplies water bowls for your dog as I am sure they'll be thirsty afterwards.

Unfortunately, dogs aren't allowed in the café but if it's a nice day you are more than welcome to sit outside with them.

Dog Friendly Walks

Kippford to Rockcliffe Circular

The Kippford to Rockcliffe circular walk (20 miles from Barnsoul) is a popular wooded coastal walk. You can start in whichever village you prefer as it is a circular route. The distance is about 3.25 miles and takes roughly 2 hours. This route is dog friendly and, if you wish to stop for a bite to eat, there is a restaurant in Kippford called the Mariner which also allows dogs.

Mabie Forest

A great place for you, the family and of course the dog. Mabie Forest has five different walks for different ages and abilities. If you enjoy a scenic walk, then this could be perfect for you. Mabie Forest (8 miles from Barnsoul) is just the other side of Dumfries.

Sandyhills

Sandyhills (18 miles from Barnsoul) is a large sandy beach on the southern coastline of Dumfries and Galloway. Due to the beach being so big there is plenty of space for your dog to run wild and plenty for all the family to do.

Dog Friendly Restaurants

Lockards Farm

Lockards Farm is a pub and restaurant located in Dumfries on Lockerbie Road (11 miles from Barnsoul) serving a range of foods specific to your needs. Don't like the side that's set to come with your order? Change it! Fancy going out for dinner but what to bring your dog? Search no more - Lockards Farm welcome dogs.
